Negotiations with Russia have assumed a more peaceable aspect. The Cabinets of London and St. Petersburg are in constant communication, and it is hoped that the alarm caused by the news from Turkestan will be dispelled.

Paris, 17th.

Patti has obtained a divorce against her second husband, Nicolini.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

Paris 16th—All the evening papers contain telegrams from London and St. Petersburg, which point to the possibility of an immediate rupture between England and Russia.

The London Standard has received telegraphic advices from its correspondents in Asia, stating that a strong corps d'armée is expected shortly to reinforce the Russian troops on the Afghan frontier.

War preparations are being resumed at Cronstadt.

The European Bourses are weak and in a high state of excitement

Russian Securities and British Consols have fallen.

War is imminent, if the Russians continue advancing.

Parana 16th—The public is much alarmed with the new aspect of affairs in Corrientes.

It is feared that something serious will happen if Derqui be re-named Governor, as Racedo's friendship with Toledo is well known.

Patagones 17th—Yesterday Dr. Juarez Celman was proclaimed candidate for the Presidency of the Republic. The enthusiasm was great, but the concourse of people was not considerable.

The new Church was opened yesterday under the most auspicious circumstances. The inaugural ceremony was presided over by Bishop Taglioni.

The Pomona sailed yesterday with cargo and 32 passengers.

The weather is very fine,

Montevideo 17th—Advices from Spain report the arrival of the Oriental Minister Kuhbly Arteaga in Murcia where he is distinguishing himself by visiting the cholera patients.

Commander Diego Bentos has fallen ill.

The death is announced of M. Aureliano Ortega who was employed in the Custom House for 28 years. His widow will receive a pension.

The Bandera Italiana will only appear twice a week.

To-morrow, it is announced, there will be great festivities in the Rowing and Cricket Clubs.

A duel is to take place between two well known Senators, on account of some altercation in the Senate.

Nothing is yet known as to Dr. Gayoso's intended trip to Europe.

The papers are full of white and black lies about the Corrientes scuffle. If Toledo means fighting, the first blood ought to be drawn to-day.

THE CORRIENTES REVOLUTION

Every man in the republic praises President Roca for his energy in this business. If revolutions are a nuisance and a humiliation, they at least have the advantage of showing us the stamp and character, and grit of Roca, who had lost not one moment in taking the most unexampled measures to stamp out the revolt. Night and day at the Boca, the Parque, the barracks, and the Inner Roads, there has been such a movement going on of troops, guns, ammunition and steamboats, that people were astonished to think that a mere Correntino row upsetting the Governor, could call for such extraordinarily vigorous steps. But General Roca is true to his prestige and to his character, and the public can gather from his iron determination and ceaseless energy in this affair what his conduct would be, did the row occur nearer home or in a province of more importance than Corrientes. Let us accept this revolution therefore as a blessing in disguise, an occurrence which will probably save the Republic from other and worse troubles consequent on the excitement of the Presidential election. The flames of civil war may be fed by mutiny or treason, and may blaze up for a moment in Corrientes, but it will only be for a moment, since the iron hand of Roca is at the wheel, and the whole power of the nation is concentrated in an instant to extinguish the flame. This Corrientes rebellion will prove a salutary lesson to all the other provinces and the unruly spirits in them, and the stern determination with which President Roca refused all parley, all temporizing with Toledo, shows that General Roca is the right man in the right place.

The following is a summary of the latest advices, telegrams and news from Corrientes. They may prove instructive reading enough, in teaching us all, that the great secret of National stability in this country rests with the National Government and that Provincial Governors are still composed of the embers of a crushed down and forgotten past:

Rosario, Juiy 15.

Governor Derqui sent in his resignation while in prison; the Vice-Governor sent his from his residence.

Toledo has told some of his friends that he would not hesitate in opposing the National Government, should the latter attempt to re-name Derqui to the Governorship of the Province. Toledo counts on the support of Goya, Curuzu, Cuatia and Mercedes. He can arm a thousand men at his first call.

La Paz, July 16.

At 12.30 p.m. the gunboat Maipu passed with General Ayala on board. According to advices received here, Dr Derqui and family left three days ago in the Tacuru. As the steamer in question as yet has not arrived here, it is conjectured that it must have been delayed at Goya.

Paraná, 16th.

The reports spread in this town with reference to the state of Corrientes are most contradictory. In Esquina no one appears to be in favor of Toledo. The Jefe Politico of this department, D. Estanislao Romero, has 100 foot and 500 cavalry at the disposal of the legal Government.

Advices from Goya announce that there are 550 men, well-armed, awaiting the arrival of General Ayala to march against Toledo, should any hostilities break out.

Commander Acosta has risen in favour of Toledo, at the head of two hundred men in the department of Mercedes. The Jefe Politico there, D. Jose Llano, has 500 men in favour of Derqui and is marching against Acosta.

In Bella Vista very few are in favour of Derqui, an officer of the name of Rodriguez has risen in support of Toledo. Rodriguez marched towards the Chaco immediately after declaring his political opinions, and with his men seized the military telegraph wires, thus interrupting communication between Resistencia and Corrientes.

Advices from Empedrado announce the rising of a body of two hundred men in favour of Toledo. From the same source the rumour has been spread that Toledo has three thousand men fully equipped and armed, in the city of Corrientes. It is, furthermore, stated that Toledo will offer no resistance to the National Government, but that he has irrevocably decided to avenge the affront he has suffered at the hands of Derqui.

Goya, July 16th.

Dr. Derqui arrived here to-day at twelve o'clock, and was received by the Gefe Politico. Dr. Soto, who has seven hundred men in favor of Dr. Derqui.

Salto (B.O.) July 16th.

Com. Anderson, who, in obedience to the National Government, has placed himself at the head of the Concordia troops (350 men) in readiness for any emergency, has just received a telegram from the President of the Republic ordering him to take his men at once to Caseros by railway, and proceed with those whom he may pick up in Corrientes to disperse the men under Toledo. Com. Anderson has received orders to employ force if resistance be offered.

Sta. Rosa, July 16th.

Two divisions of the Monte Caseros Regiment have risen in favor of Toledo.

The insurgents are endeavouring to join Acosta.

It is stated that a similar rising has taken place in Libres and La Cruz.

Commander Manuel Toledo, Jefe Politico of Santo Tomé, has risen with all the forces of this important department in favor of his nephew Colonel José Toledo.

Many departments in the centre of Corrientes have declared themselves in favor of Toledo.

INAUGURATION OF CAÑUELAS RAILWAY.

Cañuelas is one of the oldest, most populous and most famous of all our camp "partidos." It may be regarded as the parent of our sheepfarming industry, and many of the wealthiest Irishmen in the Plate may look back with pleasure to the early years of their lives that were passed in the partido of Cañuelas. We doubt if the Plaza Victoria would hold all our countrymen who, 30 years ago served their apprenticeship to sheepfarming in miserable little mud puestos in Cañuelas and Ranchos. The Scotchmen in the Plate for very many years showed a very strong preference for Cañuelas over all other districts, and even to this day the descendants of the Parishs, Robertsons, Monte Grande colonists, own some of the finest estates in this partido. Of late years we note these old partidos, once the glory of Buenos Aires, have fallen to the back ground," and while all other parts are growing out of their boots, such historic spots as Cañuelas and San Vicente remain stationary.

The new River Plate Hand Book gives the following about Cañuelas, which on the present occasion may be read with increased interest:—

"Cañuelas, 42 square leagues, population 6,085, is 30 miles S.W. of Buenos Ayres, and was included in Captain Betbezé's frontier of 1779. It is low and flat, the elevation over sea level being nowhere less than 65, nor more than 115 feet. Some of the earliest sheep farms were established here in 1826, the pastures being excellent; but at present they are too heavily stocked, the average per league being 440 cows, 440 horses, and 17,000 sheep. Land is valued at $100,000 per square league. The length of fencing is 2,630 miles, which would suffice to fence three times the area of the department.

"Principal land owners:—Acosta, Alfaro, Almanza, Arana, Ball, Barda, Barragan, Benguria, Campos, Castro, Dickson, Farias, Garcia, Gonsalez, Guisandez, Haulon, Harilaos, Larossa, McClymont, Molina, Morales, Nelson, Pereyra, Perez, Russell, Sheridan, Thompson, Uribelaria, Villegas, White.

"The White and McClymont estancias are among the oldest and finest in the province. The department has 15 inhabitants per square mile, 80 per cent. being natives. The foreigners include 460 Italians, 310 Spaniards, 170 French, and 70 British. There are 107 males to 100 females. Illegitimate births, 14 per cent. Children of school age, 1,425, of whom only 438 attend school or can read. National Guards, 601; police, 18. Birth-rate, 43; death-rate, 13; increase, 30 per 1,000 inhabitants. Provincial taxes, $10,000, or $1 60 cents per inhabitant. Assessments:—

		Per Inhabitant.
	$	$
Cattle	1,760,000	290
Lands	5,590,000	920
Houses	620,000	102
Sundries	420,000	68
	8,390,000	1380

"Stock consists of 17,000 cows, 680,000 sheep, 17,000 horses. Agriculture, 3,800 cuadras, equal to 2½ acres per inhabitant.

"Chief town, Cañuelas, with 2,500 inhabitants, was founded in 1837, when a church was built in honour of Our Lady, near the site of a fort built by Captain Betbezé, which he called Cañuelas, from the quantity of reeds in the locality. It has a church, four schools, a free library, a newspaper, and 104 shops or establishments, with a capital of £360,000. Municipal and school revenues, $30,000. Coaches run daily to Heras station on the Great Western Railway."

The good people of dear old Cañuelas rose at cock-crow and shaved by candle-light on Thursday to get ready for the greatest day the place has ever seen. Thousands of people of all nationalities poured in from the adjacent country, and the hotels and "fondas" made a prodigious harvest.

The express train with Messrs. Rufino Varela, Michael Uribelarrea and Vicente Casares, the Directing Committee of the Works, and a number of invited guests left the Constitucion terminus at 10 1/2 a.m. The Provincial Cabinet Ministers jumped in at Temperley, and then the engine headed for Cañuelas, with eight Argentine-made saloon cars as full as they could hold. For most of the way, the engine kept up a speed of 70 kilometres per hour.

The little station was crammed with people as the train drew up and a ringing "viva!" was given for the new comers. No time was lost in proceeding to business; and Mr. Rufino Varela fixed his hat firmly on his head, cleared his throat and delivered the following speech:—

Gentlemen.

The Committee who constructed this line from Barracas to Cañuelas has commissioned me to hand it over. It is 44 kilometres long from Temperley, and six more of double lines and sidings; 443,000 cubic metres of earth had to be removed, or about 9,900 per kilometre. This is rather more than in the other provincial lines. There are four stations, with house, water tank, goods sheds etc., all well built. There are also 9 ganger's huts. The gradients on the line are generally from 2 to 3 per thousand; but there is one of 7.

The 50 kilometres have cost, with stations etc. $581,768 m/n. and there is still 65,000 to pay, showing a total cost of $650,000. The cost per kilometre is $12,500 m/n. There is no cheaper line in the country; taking the depreciation of paper into account, it is supremely cheap.

I now beg to hand over the line to the Provincial Director General of Railways. It is a small one, but of great importance to the people of this town, who can remember all the difficulties they had to surmount to get it. The door of Progress is now open for them. The line is due to their own efforts and those of some friends in Lomas and San Vicente. I will ask the Directors to put up a bronze tablet with an inscription to this effect in some prominent place in the station.

To ex-Governor Dr. Rocha great credit is also due. H. E. pushed the business through the Chambers for the people of Cañuelas; and his successor has kept the Committee well supplied for the work, although no funds were voted. Last not least, come the Director General, D. Mauricio Meyer, and Engineer Balbin.

The line is now to be opened, and it will add to the life of every man in the partido. It will improve the value of everything, land, labour, and produce. Everything will increase a hundred fold.

Gentlemen.

I now hand over the line to the people of Cañuelas. Let it be opened to public traffic.

Tremendous applause followed Mr. Varela's speech. Four hundred school children then defiled, and gold cards were handed round to the Ministers and other leading personages present, with their name on each. Engineer Balbin got a special card of thanks from the townsfolk, and there was a thundering cheer as it was delivered to him.

The whole "posse comitatus" then adjourned to the Municipality for lunch; at which we had more speeches from Mr. Varela, the Mayor, and others. There was a ball at night in the Municipality, but our reporter did not wait for that.

A line from Temperley to the South bank of the Riachuelo will be at once surveyed.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

(Delayed in transmission.)

A DULL WHITSUNTIDE.

"King Charles in the Oak" day. Our month of May still blows hot and cold. Yesterday it was glorious summer; to-day the weather is again ambiguous. On Whit Monday the costermongers turned out gorgeously attired, in spite of a cruel rain. The female specimens in feathers and silks of much price; the men in pearls—that is to say, in pearl buttons. Both the race and the buttons are a puzzle to ethnologists and historians. The word "costermonger" is a general term of very little meaning, although of great interest to the observing resident in London, whose experiences of Dane, Saxon and Celt are utterly astray at meeting in Tottenham Court road and anywhere from there eastwards a breed of hard-featured, bold-looking girls—clean, healthy, happy, despising head-coverings and at times shoeless—too dark for Saxons, too fair for gipsies, too tall for Celts. They neither seem to sell nor beg. A rude dignity defies insult. They tell me they work in small factories in almost unknown purlieus. To hear them sing, as they do in the summer nights, a musician would say at once: whatever these creatures be, their music, if as old as King Lud, is of this soil—this London gravel under our feet. I take them to be pre-Celtic aborigines, and only wish that at Whitsuntide and on holidays they would not make guys of themselves

This Whitsuntide is dull. Since the Russian scare blew over, no new sensation has arisen. King Mob only s'amuse. People are poor. If one goes into the city, nobody has anything to say. At the West End those who are in the swim tell me that there is nothing but a few weddings going on and the usual jog-trot parties, which cease to interest men of our time, for whom either sport or yachting, or the garden parties and grand balls that come later in the season, have any attraction. People now must be perpetually on the move. When Parliament breaks up for a short recess at this season the town gets quite empty, and the Royal Academy is filled with dowdy folk who go to see the pictures. There is not a soul "one knows" even in the Park. the best thing I have seen is the bull-dog show at the Aquarium. Some of the animals were literally divine, and especially the champion prize-winner, "Grabber," a noble red dog, with flabby, wrinkled mug and shiny black lips, belonging to a Mrs. Sprague. There was a white dog there called "Surplice," with pinky wrinkles, the property of a working man, which would take the fancy of most people more than the prize-winner. He was a beauty. The prices ran from 50 to 70 guineas. The winner is said to be worth 150 guineas. The race of thorough-bred bull-dogs is growing scarce. They were originally bred for bull-baiting, and are now only raised in the Black Country, and a few other places, for fighting, and are much mixed with the terriers.

I say nothing about the Inventories, for, to tell you the truth, the Exhibition is not half-ready, and will not be ready until the middle or end of June. Even a collection of musical instruments, interesting to me and many, and one that is worth going miles to see, is not yet fit to talk about. There are two Andrea Guarnerieus violins, they are of great value and rarity, sent by an old estanciero of Buenos Ayres, John McGowan, Esq., of Aloa, and Queen Anne's Mansions, London, whose relative, Miss Bald, by the way, was lately married to Lord Dormer, the head of an old Catholic family in Warwickshire. There may be some of you alive still who have heard our friend, McGowan, like a second Amphion, charming with his lyre, the flocks and herds in the province of Santa Fé. His quartet parties are now among the delights of London society.

I recommend to Mr. Latham's attention Mr. Irving's success in "Olivia;" or why should not Mr. Wills have called his drama by the dear old name, "The Vicar of Wakefield?" I have not yet seen this last Lyceum revival, but an excellent notice in one of the papers recalls to mind that intensity of interest displayed by an audience some of us remember in the old days of the "Gymnase" at Paris. The improvement in the mounting of plays in London is now very apparent. The scene painters and stage managers have at last learned the art of effect. Scenes are not only well painted, but every detail of local colouring is artistically exhibited. The first scene in the "Mikado," at the Savoy, is, as you will have long since seen described, a marvel of realism — a veritable glimpse of Japan. So, in Thomas's opera, "Nadesha," at Drury Lane. Summer in Russia, with its clear skies and red sunsets, behind shadowy domes and minarets, its pine woods and wild flowers, affect us as they are seen on the stage like a page from Tourgénieff. Those who in witnessing "Olivia" have sobbed over the story of seduction, and have been stirred by the scene where the girl at last, convinced of the baseness of her lover, and "all gentleness and sweetness as she is, she strikes him with both hands, driving him back several paces"—those who once more have seen revived Goldsmith's immortal picture of unsophisticated country life in England in the last century, as dramatised by Mr. Wills, and now interpreted by Mr. Irving and Miss Terry, who has in this play surpassed herself, could not surely despise the novel and mechanical device, by which, in the last scene, cloud and sunshine are made to play on the roof of the distant vicarage, where the playwright at the end leaves us to hope pristine peace and happiness are restored. The stage-carpenter of our day when his work, like the rest, is idealised, represents the difference between the era of the "Globe" in Southwark or the era of wigs and red heels and the present time. The Elizabethan period may boast of its dramatists, but few of us would stay five minutes in one of its rough, hot, dark, unhealthy theatres, if they could be revisited. In fact, it is only now that, with the coolness and splendour of the electrical light, and with the mechanical improvements on the stage and in the auditorium, we begin to have a notion of a temple worthy of the dramatic Muse—and the Muse of our own day, who is not masked and buskinned, but one of ourselves. I am unclassical enough in these things to be of the opinion that when she is not that she is not a real power, and only a shadow, looming large in the mist of antiquity.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

The inauguration of electrical illumination at the Bibliotheca Nacional took place on the evening of the 1st inst.

The American packet Advance arrived at Pernambuco on the 2nd inst., and left for the south on the same day.

A despatch from the minister of justice to the chief of police authorizes the private night-watchmen project, who will be allowed arms, if the chief considers it necessary.

Subscriptions are now being received on the Royal Mail steamers for the widows and orphans of the officers and crew of the Humber. It is proposed to raise a found of £7,000 to which the city of Southampton and the Royal Mail Co. have already subscribed liberally.

Our esteemed colleague, the Diario de Noticias, says that some barrels of petroleum had come ashore at one of the Azores islands and that a shipi wreck, it was feared, ahd occurred. Barrels of petroleum not being natural products of the ocean, the fear is well based.

The government has declined to permit Mr. Herbert E. Hunt to construct a large refrigerating establishment in this city for the preservation of meats, fish, vegetables, fruits, etc.

The last section of the Corcovado railway was opened to traffic on the 1st inst.

The new American minister and consul-general for this capital are expected to arrive in the Advance on the 7th inst.

The Others is announced to sail for New York direct on the 5th inst., at a.m., and the Merrimack on the 6th at 10 a.m., calling at northern ports.

The minister of agriculture has ordered the payment of 13,632 marks to the Hamburg colonization society on account of 200 immigrant passages from that port to Brazil.

After various decisions and counter-orders, it is proposed now that the statue of Conselheiro Buarque de Macedo shall be placed in the central station of the Dom Pedro II railway. Better than posting it on a dry fountain.

H. B. M.'s ships Amethyst and Algerine arrived here on the 28th and the Stork and Ready on the 30th ult., all from the River Plate. There will probably be a cricket match arranged between the officers and the Rio Cricket Club.

The United States frigate Lancaster arrived in port on the 1st inst., coming from the Mediterranean and calling at the Congo and St. Helena on the way. The Lancaster is under the command of Captain Potter, and carries the ensign of Admiral English as the flagship of the South Atlantic squadron.

The directors of the Centro da Lavoura e do Commercio have received a memorandum from many merchants of this city asking that a general meeting of business men be called, to discuss a petition to the government against a continuation of the present system of judical executions and particularly to that part of the law known as "forced adjudications."

Nearly 11,000 bags of Indian corn from the River Plate have been received at this port since our last issue—and more is on the way. Essencialmente agricola, of course! but it is cheaper and easier to buy such things abroad than to produce them at home. In the present instance, however, Brazil does produce Indian corn, but it costs more to transport it a hundred miles by rail than a thousand miles by water.

The construction of the Ilha Grande lazaretto is going forward with renewed activity. Just when it will be completed no one knows.

We are glad to observe that the assassin of Sr. Rumpf in Frankfort has been condemned to death. Havas-Reuter furnishes the news.

The United States commission to South American states for the development of commercial relations, were passengers on the ill-fated Guadiana. Many of the passengers were taken on to Southampton by the Tagus.

By an imperial decree of the 27th ult. is promulgated the prorogation of the budget of last year for the first four months of the current year, to which is added an appropriation of 52,500$ for the Chili commission, and an authorization to issue $16,000,000 more of treasury bill "in anticipation of revenue."

The Rio Cricket Club had a lawn-tennis tournament, handicap, that commenced on the 24th ult. and was finished on the 29th. For the benefit of foreigners, we may here explain that St. John the Baptist has charge of the first and St. Peter of the second day. The winners were Messrs. Joseph Peake and Close (received 15) who beat Messrs. Walter and Matheson (received 30) in the final tie.

Renewed efforts are now being made to secure new subscribers for the British Subscription Library, the support of which has greatly fallen off during late years. The Library has a large and good selection of books, periodicals and newspapers, and certainly merits a better support than it has been receiving. With some modifications it could be made not merely useful to the English and American residents of the city, but a centre of literary and social life of genuine merit. Such an agency is certainly needed, and we hope that the new support given to the Library will make an improvement possible at an early day.

There seems to have been a very great indifference among the inhabitants of Caravellas to the requirements of the rescued passengers of the Guadiana. A Brazilian account of the shipwreck says that there were some 300 people assembled at the landing. It was 7 o'clock in the evening, and the passengers were both wet and hungry, and yet not a word of sympathy, and not a house was opened for food and shelter. The one hotel of the place had two beds to offer, which were given to the women, while the men made themselves as comfortable as possible on the floor. And for this and a very scant allowance of food, the landlord wanted 10$000 a day for each person. Caravellas is quite welcome to the reputation gained by this incident.

DEPARTURE OF THE CHANNEL SQUADRON.

The most formidable Channel squadron which probably this country has ever put to sea left Portland Harbour about half-past ten yesterday morning for Bantry Bay, including examples of almost every existing type of battle ship—broadsides, turrets, rams, and torpedo ships, both large and small. The fleet for the most part has been at Portland for some time, each day however bringing some addition, the last, yesterday morning being, the Polyphemus torpedo ship. The supreme command of the squadron is vested in Admiral Sir Geoffrey Phipps Hornby, who has hoisted his flag on board the Minotaur, 17. Vice-Admiral Sir Anthony Hoskins, who has the command of the Second Division, has his flag on board the Hercules, 14, and Rear-Admiral Whyte, who has charge of the Third Division, is flying his pennant on board the Agincourt, 17. The other ships were the Sultan, 12; Shannon, 9; Iron Duke, 14; Repulse, 12; Ajax, 6; Hotspur, 4; Dev astation 4; Polyphemus, steel torpedo ram; Hecla, 6, iron torpedo dapo ship, and a flotilla of several first-class torpedo boats. The ships were patterns of various styles of naval architecture, embracing turret vessels, turret rams, and powerful broadside ships, such as the Sultan and Hercules, with the older but stately Minotaur and Agincourt. About ten o'clock some of the ships began to get under weigh, and by eleven they had taken up their respective positions in three divisions, the Admiral's ships being respectively at the head of each, whilst a torpedo boat steamed by the side of each ironclad. The Hecla also accompanied the ships. When the fleet was outside the breakwater the armed cruiser Oregon made her appearance, and saluted the Admiral's flag; but instead of her joining the ships she came into Portland Harbour, where the Repulse and Hotspur were left behind, but will join the squadron shortly. The spectacle of seeing the fleet under steam was most imposing, and was witnessed by a large number of persons both on sea and land.

CONVICTION OF A FRENCH POISONER.

A murder trial, which has been exciting much interest in France, was concluded on Saturday. A watchmaker named Albert Pel, living at Montreuil, who is suspected of having poisoned five women, including his mother, was found guilty of the murder of a woman named Bohmer, who had lived with him, and was sentenced to death. He was tried on two charges—the murder of his first wife and of the woman Bohmer, but was acquitted on the first charge. The following is an abstract of the case against him:—In August, 1880 Pel married his first wife, Eugénie Buffereau, a young woman who had saved a sum of 4,000 francs, the whole of which, in the absence of a contract, would pass to the husband at her death. A month after her marriage she had attacks of vomiting, and in October she died. That the cause of her death was arsenical poisoning is certain, for the body has been exhumed and the arsenic has been traced. Her mother saw her three days before her death, and found her suffering from intense thirst and from severe internal pains. She thereupon called a doctor, who was puzzled by the symptoms which he observed, and which he was not able to explain. He found his patient in a dying state, vomiting and in intense pain. His idea was that she must have poisoned herself by eating mushrooms, but this he learned she had not done. It was not until after her death, and when he was told that arsenic had been found in her body, that the idea suggested itself to him that she had met with foul play. It was not until Pel had been taken into custody on another charge of the kind, however, that anything was said about Eugénie Buffereau's case. The first charge actually brought against Pel had to do with his latest crime, the poisoning of his mistress Elisa Bohmer. At this time he had married a second wife, and after some unsuccessful attempts to poison her and her mother, had formed a liaison with Elisa Bohmer. This was in the spring of 1884. Early in July Elisa Bohmer was attacked by a series of vomiting fits, and on July 12 she disappeared. A neighbour on the opposite side of the way went to Pel's house on July 5 and saw Elisa Bohmer, but was not suffered to enter the house again. For three days, about this time, the lodgers in the house and the neighbours perceived a disagreeable smell coming from Pel's room, and a bright fire was observed to be kept alight in Pel's stove. Their conclusion was that he was burning Elisa Bohmer's body, but their suspicion went no further than a belief that he was so acting in order to avoid the necessity of giving formal notice of her death. One of the most curious parts of the evidence given was that of a chemist, who had burned a corpse in a small kitchen grate, in order to test the possibility of Pel having so disposed of the remains of his mistress. This witness informed the court that a corpse of average weight might be entirely burned in a kitchen grate in forty hours, without causing any more disagreeable odour than that arising from the cooking of mutton cutlets.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Havas telegrams last night are of a more peaceable hue, and as none of the banks in town, they say, have received any bad news, let us all hope that the advance of the Russians on Afghanistan was a "bola." The new British Cabinet will not be so pliable as the former, and if Russia means war she may rest assured that between Lord Salisbury and Lord Dufferin she will get it.

Yesterday was a hot day enough in Congress owing to the interpellation of the Minister on the Corrientes question. The President however, did the right thing, he did not wait to dispute about the constitution and give Toledo time to move the whole province, but came down on him hot and heavy, and left Congress to settle about the constitutionality of intervention

The Finance Committee of the Senate sat all day yesterday on the Pellegrini contract, so we may expect it despatched immediately. It is much to be regretted that the Senate consented to discuss it in secret session. Such matters should be most public and above board.

The sailing of the R. M. S. Neva was the business of the day yesterday. Many friends left in her, amongst others Mr. John O'Conner, saladerista of the Uruguay, and Messrs E. Gahan and John Kenny millionaire sheepfarmers and estancieros, also Mr. Powers the managing Director of the Gower Bell Telephone Company. As a matter of course the mole was crowded, and the scene was made additionally pathetic by the great intermixture of beautifully sealed up boxes of sovereigns with piles of passengers, luggage. In the event of war breaking out, the Neva with all her gold on board would be a splendid prize, but the Russians have yet to grow much before the can aim so high.

Our brother editor has sent us three letters from London, and we may safely say that as we have received no cable from him since the fall of Gladstone, no change has as yet occurred to justify the sending of a message.

Yesterday was President Roca's birthday, and crowds of friends visited him at his house in Calle Suipacha, and felicitated him on the event. General Roca completed his 42nd year, and has already passed 25 years in the service of his country. We wish H. E. many happy returns of the day.

There will be a collection in the Scotch Church, in aid of the funds of the library, on Sunday at both services.

The Escalante company debut at the Colon Theatre this evening in Aida. The singers are decidedly good, and deserve public support at the very reasonable prices fixed.

Let none of our subscribers who have not paid in advance go near the houses Nos. 628 and 630 Calle San Martin. The Lord Mayor says they may come down at any moment; and his Lordship is the very highest authority on such matters.

Dr. Murrell, of London, felicitates himself on the discovery that nitro-glycerine is a remedy for angina pectoris, but properly applied it will remove almost anything.

The Carlo Company give their last performances on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The little ones will be sorry, but they will have an opportunity of seeing Bosco and the monkeys again next year.

"Is there to be or not to be war between England and Russia?" was the question yesterday morning. Some cheerful-minded wise-acres discerned peace in the Pagaré Committee's telegram, forgetting that it left Liverpool at 1 o'clock; whereas a leading firm received a later one declaring rupture imminent and Havas' despatch left London at 6 p.m. A great many tremendous things occur in the world now-a-days in six hours. Russia has made her plans and is carrying them out. If England could say the same it would be better for us.

The cold was nipping yesterday in the matutinal tub. By the way! Old boys of 50 ought to give up tubbing in the morning. It tends to curtail our subscription list and create a demand for doctors.

Boiled milk and carbonic acid is the latest fashionable remedy in Europe for a stomach out of order. An Amsterdam physician (Dr Mezyer) is giving it to the Empress of Austria with the best results. Every snob in Christendom will now try boiled milk and carbonic acid for his wretched "estomago"—as if cads and crowned heads were made of the same flesh. They are not, in spite of what all the 'ologists say.

Is it not a "verguenza" to see the Governor of Santa Fé and his Finance Minister offering bets of 2,000 nats. in the papers on electioneering matters? What is the country coming to?

The salmon ruction in Congress has lost its hook. Besides, the news from Merv and Corrientes has quite snuffed it out. It strikes us that the Senate has no constitutional right to haul up the editor.

The Rosario Municipality has burst up till September. It is composed of much the same kind of "critturs" as the Buenos Ayres Consejo D.—not a spark of fun in the whole lot.

We see a lot of letters for English names in the official Post Office Boletin of the 11th inst. They are quite too numerous to mention; so we advise those who are expecting love-letters or a legacy to go to the P. O. and look up the list.

The little unpleasantness between the Lord Mayor and the Gas Company, about gold or paper payment for lighting the town, has been settled. The Company, with a gentle sigh, has agreed to accept paper. Sixty-five thousand nats. a year saved to the taxpayers.

The following curious circular was left at some houses in the neighborhood of Hyde Park London a few days after the fall of the Gladstone Cabinet:

"A selection of Pianoforte Solos, Songs and Vocal Duets will be performed this or some fine evening under your window by Two Gentlemen who are in painfully reduced circumstances and who earnestly solicit your practical sympathy, which (if any) please kindly send out to us."

Mr. Odlum, teacher of swimming in New York, lost his life last month by jumping from Brooklyn Bridge into East River, to show how a drop for 136 feet could be made. The police were instructed to interfere, but he managed to elude them by a ruse, and Captain Boyton with some friends were underneath in a boat. Mr. Odlum, having attracted the attention of the police by a confederate, sprang up the lattice work, and from the top poised for a moment, stretched out his left arm at right angles, raised the right above his head, and jumped left foot forward. For 100 feet he maintained his equilibrium; but, then the body swerved, and failing to regain his perpendicular, he tried to double up as designed, but failed, and his body struck the water on his side. He went 12 or 14 feet below the surface, and when he rose it was face downwards, helpless. Captain Boyton plunged in and supported him till help came. The contact with the water had burst his swimming costume and torn aside his skin, through which blood was flowing, and, upon touching his chest, the blood poured from the lungs. In about half an hour he died in agony. Every rib had been broken, and all the principal internal organs were ruptured. Before dying, he asked if he had made a good jump. There is talk of prosecuting his associates.

Dr. Dn. E. Costa, Procurador General, has given another famous decision, which speaks the man, and shows a spirit of independance and straightforwardness that is above all Government influence or intrigue. We regard it a very great thing for the country to have a man filling so important a post as that of Attorney General, and with such great decision of character. The question now decided was a small invoice of hinges etc imported for La Plata, and solicited to be admitted in duty free. Dr. Costa very properly sees no reason for any such exemption, since the hinges might just as well have been bought at any of the shops in this market, and he considers it unfair towards general trade and sound business principles to afford to Government or individual any such special privileges. We entirely concur with Dr. Costa in his sound and liberal views on this question, and the sooner we throw off all these old Spanish "fueras," which in the reign of Fernando and Isabel were intelligible, but to-day are not, the better. Dr. Costa is the best Procurador General we ever had in this country, and the soundness of his views in legal questions is a promise to the country of equal solidity of judgment in political matters, where, if we are not greatly mistaken, he will very soon be called to play a most conspicuous part.

Mr. Oliver Budge's telegram, which we give in another column, removes the painful anxiety, caused in town by the news that the train had tumbled into the Mandisobi river, which is a deep and rapid stream, and when flooded a raging torrent.

We have heard of something like the following before. It relates the way in which ships are repaired in U. S. dockyards:—

"Touching the repairs of the "Mohican," a small wooden ship of about 1,900 tons displacement. This wonderful vessel, it would appear, was taken out of commission in 1872, and instead of being sold or broken up, they set to work to "repair" her. During the thirteen years which have since elapsed said "repairs" have steadily continued, until now their cost has reached "three times," "what a new ship of the same character and class could have been built for"—or $900,000."

We find the following account of an extraordinary new opera called "The Seven Deadly Sins in an exchange received by the mail:— "M. Adalbert Goldsmith's musical drama, "Les Sept Péchés Capitaux," is one of the most singular productions that have ever been put upon the stage. The play opens with a scene in the infernal regions, a whole army of demons crowding round Satan's throne to hear the seven devils (representing the seven deadly sins) vaunting their respective power over mankind. The next part of the drama represents, in a series of wonderful tableaux, the seven devils at work, and their influence upon humanity; while the third and last part depicts mankind in a desolate country whence nature has fled, the erring creatures being represented in fearful agony and despair, though a faint hope of redemption still languishes within them. At length redemption arrives in the shape of good angels, but a combat commences between them and the seven demons, who vanish finally before the sun, which rises above all and represents an appeased heaven. Each scene or tableau is accompanied by descriptive music of a very high class, and the whole representation promises great things from the composer, who is only just twenty years of age."

A Chicago hotel-keeper recently had a man arrested for stealing a cake of soap. The man pleaded in extenuation of his offence that he wanted it for his collection of curiosities, it being the first entire cake of soap he had ever discovered in a Chicago hotel.

"And so you like the yarns we seadogs spin?" asked the gallant young mariner. "I doat on them," the young lady passionately responded. "And what shall I tell you of the doings of us salts?" he tenderly asked. Oh! tell me how you luff," she innocedtly answered.

Telegrams from the Monte Caseros frontier line announce the raising of men all along the line out there for Toledo. This is just what we anticipated, and what the President himself anticipated when he ordered Major Anderson to mobilize the Nat. Guard of all that wide and lonely district.

The Beneficencia Damas have reduced the price of family tickets for the Bolsa ball to 15 nats. This is still too high.

Although we personally prefer an open tram car in all weathers short of a hurricane, we can sympathise with the howl in the papers for closed cars while the winter lasts. The fact of it is, the open cars pay the companies better, and they don't care a brass farthing for the public.

The Uruguay is reported to be rising at an alarming rate. The islands are all under water; and all the materials for the new wharf at Paysandu have been carried to the South Pole, where Lieut. Bove can look for them the next time he goes that way.

Gods! can a B.O. Senate spend such a monstrous sum on gilt chairs, sofas and other furniture fal-de-rols? It can. 20,000 pats! Not a copper less. What extravagance!

Mr. Peter Guerri, one of the two amiable brothers (the other has gone to glory) who tried to make cold meat of Dr. and General Sarmiento when he was President, has petitioned to be let out, as he has already served twelve out of the twenty years penal servitude to which he was condemned. The Cámara, however, has said "non possumus," and Peter is safe for eight years more.

The Revd Perets Boutry and Ferrieu have just arrived from France. These worthy priests passed a considerable time in Central Africa, and published a dictionary of the language there. The College of the Propaganda has sent them on a mission to South America. They visit all the provinces and then cross into Chile.

The Union publishes a laughable story about M. Levy, son of the well-known Jew banker in Paris. He and his wife lately arrived here, and in Calle San Martin the other day he was jostled by a swell, and suddenly found that his watch was gone. He seized the fellow's arm and gave him a bit of his mind in French; the thief did ditto to him in Spanish, gave him a look of haughty surprise, shook him off, and passed on. M. Levy appealed to the bye-standers in the choicest Parisian; but they only laughed at him. A few mornings since M. L. was crossing Plaza Victoria when who should stop him with a gracious salute, but the well-dressed thief, who whispered in his ear "quelle heure est il?" and then passed on. Why Mr Levy did not collar him we really cannot explain.

The official papers announce something worse than unpleasantness in the National College at Mendoza, owing to the Rector and Vice Rector of that establishment eking out their incomes by imposing fines not sanctioned, and doing sundry other things which they should not have done. The whole College has been demoralised by this business.

A Presidential proclaiming meeting in Santiago del Estero fell through the other day. The fight for the Chief Magistracy is sharpening every day.

The Southern Railway will soon begin building a mole on the South side of the Riachuelo, which will never be a proper port until the stream is straightened out and Rocha's Hook cut clean away.

Victor Hugo's declination of the services of a clergyman in his last hours will recall to the readers of Les Miserables that he makes Jean Valjean deline similar assistance when he is dying.

The numerous heirs of the late Mr Cæsar Mongroviejo declare that they are growing 'viejo' while the courts are winding up their father's will; and, what's worse, they are half-starving for want of their money. The will has been before the courts since September 1883. There is lots of money, but the unfortunate heirs cannot lay hands on a cent of it. This is shameful.

Several cases of poor sufferers being turned from the doors of the city hospitals have again been reported of late. These inhuman scenes are most repulsive.

The lawsuit by Mr. Garcia against Dr or Mr Nazaar to recover his aunt's large fortune is attracting immense attention. Some of the first men in town are amongst the witnesses, and they all swear that the old woman was as mad as a March hare, and quite unableto make a will. Mr N. will have to disgorge.

IN THE VALLEYS

NAUQUEN and LIMAY.

The following is the official notice of this Great Land Auction, which will bring buyers from Europe to invest:—

OFICINA CENTRAL DE TIERRAS Y COLONIAS—Remate de Tierras Nacionales—Con arreglo a la ley de 3 de Noviembre de 1882 y en virtud de lo dispuesto en el decreto de 27 de Marzo ppdo. se venderan en remate publico once secciones de terreno situadas en las confluencia de los rios Limay y Nauquen. La base para la venta sera de 500 pesos la legua. El precio de la tierra debera pagarse la 6ª parte al contado y el resto en cinco cuotas iguales, una al vencimiento de cada año. Las licitaciones tendran ugar los dias 1º al 21 de Julio proximo en la Oficina Central de Tierras y Colonias, establecida en la calle de Salta num. 8 esquina a Rivadavia. Para Planos y detalles, ocurrase a dicha reparticion.—Buenos Aires, Abril 23 de 1885.—EL SECRETARIO.

The general topography of these lands is of the same nature. Without being exactly mountainous, the camps are undulating and in some place present the aspect of plateaus where trees grow in profusion, and an abundant mountain grass ("pasto de las sierras") are everywhere to be seen in luxuriance. The valleys or hollows contain innumerable breaks which are a proof of the action of water at a very remote epoch; but these "quebradas" are now dry. However, the grasses and general vegetation seem to meet with no impediment to their growth anywhere. Towards the Nothwestern limit of the polygon slope comes to an end in the Arroyo Covunco. The cañada is abundantly watered and soft grasses such as the gramilla, trevol etc. grow in wild profusion.

The valleys along the River Nauquen and Limay are fertile although sandy and comprise small traes of flat lands. Nevertheless, there is a sufficient depth of humus to qualify the land for all agricultural purposes. Grasses grow in abundance especially in the "rinconadas" and in the innumerable islands which are to be found along the course of the river. There are also various classes of forest trees including sarsaparilla.

The valleys are fertile and with rich black earth suitable for agriculture. Along the Limay and on the islands there are forest of Sauce Colorado and Blanco which timber is very useful for building purposes, and it may be added that the Limay on its entire length is navigable for small steamers and vessels that can connect with the navigation of the Rio Negro.

Gold	137½
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas F	75½

The gold speculation this morning assumed greater proportions than ever and the feverish excitement at the ring and the immense volume of business made official hours the greatest field-day since the decree of forced currency was issued last January. Speculation is spreading fast, and the contagious fever has caught all walks of life, from the lowest to the highest. The fever has reached such a climax that the dealers who three months ago shuddered and could not sleep after selling $10,000 now plunge head and ears into the eddy and sell by hundreds of thousands with the greatest equanimity. Gambling never reached such proportions as at present, and brokers assert that the cartmen of Calle Maipu and Rivadavia are selling and buying freely. The whole market has plunged into the vortex, and the speculation beats all recollections of the Avellaneda crisis.

The knowing-ones who yesterday afternoon got hold of the alarming news from Europe bought freely and sold to-day at 2 and 3 o/o in advance of yesterday's prices. It was remarkable, however, that the heavy buyers turned round to-day and sold very large amounts for the 30th. The news from Europe and the shipment of gold by the R.M.S. Neva were the pivat of the rise in the premium this morning. Fresh telegrams were received to-day announcing that the Russians continued to advance on Afghanistan, but the effect of this news was marred by that of another message quoting Consols at par—nothing less than ⅜ advance on the quotation cabled yesterday. In the midst of such contradictory advices the ring is the scene of the greatest gold speculation ever witnessed in this market. Over two millions of dollars must have been sold during official hours, and the merchants, it was remarked, began buying fair amounts to-day. Up to the present they had kept out of the market, and their presence in the gold arena is significant. The fears of war in Europe, no doubt, induce them to buy for the end of the month and for August. But for the fact that some bulls turned bears and sold heavily to-day, the market would have been pushed over 40 o/o premium.

The heavy sellers of gold to-day were the great bears of last month, who turned round last week and bought double. The old bear King entered the field to-day and began buying fair amounts. The cattle-King kept in the background and did little or nothing. The hopes of the bears are centred in the decision of the Boards of the State Banks to resume drawing for exchange, but it appears that the Board of the Provincial Bank will not draw for a brass farthing, unless the National Government grants the General Bond on the 17,000,000$ loan for old debts. As the Government cannot accede to this request in view of the London negotiation of the three Argentine loans, the Bank will not draw. At least, there are very few probabilities of the Provincial Bank resuming its exchange operations. It would be useless to point to the expediency of drawing at present rates, as, from one cause or another, the Board appears to appreciate to a greater degree the 'profit' accruing from shipping gold from London to this market, at a period when exchange on London is quoted at 46½d. Politics, or abnormal views on exchange operations, have more to do in these matters, than the normal ideas of merchants and others on such mercantile affairs.

Operations in gold for cash were small compared to the gigantic speculation raging for the 30th and for August: $100,000 changed hands. The market opened at 39, fell immediately to 38, and touched bottom at 37½, closing price. Operations for Saturday were large: 277,000 were sold, rates opening at 37½, rising to 38½, and closing at the opening price. About a million was sold for the end of the month. The market opened at 38½, rose to 39, fell to 37½, and closed firm at 38. Over 500,000 were sold for the end of August. Prices opened at 38, fell to 36 and closed 36½. The market to-day opened very firm for all dates, weakened from 1 to 2 o/o, and closed firm at prices slightly under the opening rates. There is a great bearish speculation on foot for the end of August, but some new buyers with strong orders have put in an appearance and will probably push up prices. The atmosphere in the hall is bullish, and nearly all the outside clique appear to be operating for a rise.

The exchange market shewed a firmer feeling to-day, and drawers were reported at 46¾d. The situation is rising, and rates will probably soon rise to a figure that will put a stop to the export of gold. The supply of special gold thrown on the market has been larger than usual of late. There is a better tone all round, and the Neva will probably take the last large shipment of specie from this market.

There is a funebrious aspect about the Cedula market. Nobody takes any interest in the Stock and all the interest of the market is absorbed by the gold speculation. Operations to-day comprised 27,600 A at 100½ for cash and 15,000 F for the end of the month at at 78½. Shares and Certificates of the National Bank are completely forgotten.

Our colleague El Diario published an important Paris telegram to-day, amplifying the laconic news forwarded by Havas last night. According to our colleague Russian bonds and Consols have fallen heavily in Paris, Berlin and Frankfurt. Our colleague also states that the gold shipped by the Lamport & Holt and Royal Mail Steam Companies in the last six months exceeds half a million sterling. We may add on another half million for the Italian and French packets. Ounces, it is well known, are shipped with preference to France, whence they are shipped to the Panama Isthmus to pay the laborers of the canal. The shipments of gold, however, are not so large as people anticipated at the beginning of the year. Some consolation may be derived from the consideration that the country had the gold to ship, and can afford to ship much more if necessary.

The Platense steamer Pomona left Patagones yesterday with 32 passengers for this city. On Monday she is expected to arrive at Montevideo and to enter the Cibil dock. Her passengers will come up to Buenos Aires in another steamer of the Platense Company. Telegrams from Patagones announce some political excitement down there and splendid weather.

The bill on the Pellegrini mission was sent to the Senate yesterday, but the debate was the subject of a secret session, and nothing transpired beyond the fact that the bill was sent to the Financial Committee of the Upper House. On 'Change many believe that the alarming political news from Europe may become a serious impediment to the business, but the negotiation, so far as the London bankers are concerned, is settled and they cannot go back. The bill, it is expected, will be passed in Congress by a sweeping majority.

The Corrientes news has lost all its significance and importance on 'Change. It is highly probable that the rebel Toledo will surrender immediately. This is the belief in political quarters, and the whole affair is a storm in a tea-pot.

The money market rules easy, but gold discounts are no longer so large. The private banks do not shew the same liberality in this line as last month. Paper is superabundant.

The whole market is talking of the Limay land auction and wise-acres believe that the buyers are quite off their heads. If anybody had whispered six months ago that these Limay lands would sell at 5,000$ per league he would have been thought mad; yesterday, however, perfectly sane people paid 7, 8 and 9,000$ per league. Lands in the Limay triangle are selling at higher prices than in the province of Corrientes, but taking all in all it is safer to pay 10,000 at Nahuel Huapi than 5,000 in the Toledo province of the republic. These high prices for such distant land must necessarily give a great spurt to all lands in Santa Fé and in the National sections, and land-lords are already raising their pretensions. Landmen state that Chilians are buying the Limay lands, and our transandine neighbors have extraordinary ideas about the value of a league of land situated on a navigable river, irrigated by one of its affluents and only two days distance from a market where fat animals fetch from 50 to 70$. It is stated that there are over 5,000 Chillian settlers already in these Limay lands.

Talking of the Limay lands, it may interest our readers to know that a company requested a gentleman of this market to take the steamer down to Patagones, to gallop hence to the Triangle of the Limay and to study the sections for sale, map in hand. This gentleman telegraphed from that "tierra incognita," we may say, the day before each auction, and fixed his limits of purchase for the very best lotes on the Limay river at 20 to 30 o/o above the Government valustion. Our friend is twenty years behind time as the lots in question sold from 2,500$ to 8,125$ per league or five to nearly twenty times the Government valuation of 600$ per league. When we consider that the Limay landsthat have been offered for auction are not the best in the Triangle, in fact far from it, and that the lands at the Nahuel Huapi, in the Manzanas, at the Pulmary-Diaz lake and thereabouts are very much superior, we may look forward to very much higher prices when the lands at the foot of the Andes are put up for auction. They are at present occupied by Chilian squatters

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

Everybody was anxiously waiting for telegrams from London to-day. At noon the Bolsa telegram, which we publish lower down, was posted. Consols have risen to 99⅝, a rather low quotation yet, if we take into consideration the cheapness of money in the London market. In the papers by the last mail we see that three months' bank bills were quoted at ½ o/o. Floating money was quoted at ½ o/o. The Bolsa telegram announces some anxiety on the Stock Exchange in view of the rumoured advance of the Russians. Our Havas message, which we publish in another column, states that the St. James and the St. Petersburg Cabinets are in constant communication, and that prospects are more reassuring. The political difficulty, at all events, is again to the front, and we may look forward to stirring news this month.

Some ugly rumors were circulated this evening, with regard to the negotiation of the loans and some financial matters that concern the market very closely. We believe that there is not the slightest foundation to any of them. These reports, however, spread a disagreeable atmosphere round the hall, and gold went up.

The gold market ruled very firm during afterhours. The excitement in the parlor was so great that whilst a leading broker was selling at 37½ for the 30th, another was offering to buy large amounts at 38½. A very active business was carried on in operations for to-morrow; 300,000$ must have been sold at 38½, 39, 39½, 40 and 39, closing rate, firm. About half a million was sold for the 30th at 38 to 39½, the market closing firm at 38¾. Operations for the end of August were calculated at 400,000 at 37 and 38, closing rate.

A telegram from Liverpool to the Pagaré Committee of this city states that the Russian advance on the Afghan frontier is not confirmed and that no fresh complications have arisen in the political question Consols are quoted at 99⅜, Argentine Hard Dollars at 74 o/o. Another private telegram, received yesterday announces a fall in Argentine bonds and war imminent between Great Britain and Russia.

The steamer Henri IV, from Valencia, which was eight days in quarantine at Montevideo, has been quarantined again in this port for 24 hours. She has seven passengers on board. The medical officer visited the Niger and gave her entry; she has 96 passengers on board. The Van Dyck arrived also and was allowed entry. The Leipzig which was quarantined both here and in Montevideo was allowed free pratique. The R.M.S. Neva left to-day with a few passengers, some cargo and a large consignment of gold. Amongst her passengers we note the wealthy "saladerista," Mr. O'Connor, from Colon.

The Board of Public Works has applied to the Minister of Finance for 600,000$, to pay the expenses of the City Improvement Works for the months of July and August. The expenses for June and May amounted to half a million.

It is said that the French Minister of Finance is unable to balance the Budget of 1884 without an issue of Bonds for 68 millions to cover ordinary, and 300 millions for extraordinary expenditure, altogether 368 millions francs, or 14½ millions sterling.

Messrs. I. Thomson, T. Bonar & Co. announce that the sixth quarterly dividend of the Uruguay Unified 5 o/o Loan, of 1883, together with the Bonds drawn on the 1st April last, will be paid on July 1st.

The Central Argentine Land Co. has declared a dividend of 12 o/o, but invested the money in Santa Fe, to prevent loss in exchange!

The annexed is from the Report of the Directors of the East Argentine Railway Co., Limited, presented at the ordinary meeting on the 19th of June:—

"The Directors submit to the members their report and statement of accounts, showing the results of the working of the line during the past year, with the corresponding items for 1883:—

	1884
The gross receipts of the railway for the year have been ...	£50,647	8	2
Less—Working expenses	£31,372	8	10
Profit.....	£19,274	19	4
	1883
The gross receipts of the railway for the year have been ...	£40,204	10	0
Less—Working expenses	£31,704	18	3
Profit.....	£8,499	11	10

This profit is applicable in reduction of the interest guaranteed by the Government. The guaranteed interest for the year 1884, with the profit on working the line and other items, amount together to £70,408 18s 1d. After deducting the interest on the 1st and second mortgage debentures to 1st June, 1884, and the half-year's interest on the 6 o/o debenture stock, and other charges, to 31st Dec., 1884, there remains £46,926 18s 11d, to which is added the balance from last year (after the special deduction shown in the account) of £150,298 16s 10d, making a total of £197,225 15s 9d. The dividends paid 28th February and 1st July, 1884, amounting to £43,420, being deducted from this total, there remains a balance of £153,806 15s 9d. An interim dividend of 10s per share was paid on March 31st last, and the Directors now recommend a further distribution of 15s per share, free of income-tax, making, together, a total dividend of £1 5s per share, or 6½ o/o for the year ending 31st Dec., 1883. The guaranteed interest payable by the Argentine Government to 31st Dec., 1883 (except a balance of £3,063 12s 5d), was met by Treasury Bills which matured in December and January last. Owing to the decree of forced currency a loss of £17,074 12s 4d was incurred in the conversion of these bills into sterling, and as the Government guarantee provides for payment in sterling this loss has been debited to the Government. The accounts for the guaranteed interest of 1884 are in the hands of the Government, and the Board trust shortly to receive advice of payment. With regard to the expropriation of the line, the Board enclose a copy of the further correspondence that has taken place since the issue of the first pamphlet, from which it will be seen that there is no immediate prospect of the purchase being effected by Government. The Board regret to record the death of their local Director and colleague, Mr. William Thompson, who for many years has represented the company's interests in B. Ayres, and have appointed the River Plate Trust, Loan, and Agency Company, Limited, to represent the company in the Argentine Republic."

"It appears that a large and very influential body of shareholders of the Central Argentine Land Co., Limited, have been lately in communication with the Board with a view to a slight change in the direction, with the result, we believe, that Mr. Frank Parish, Chairman of the remarkably prosperous Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway, is likely to become the new Director. Mr. Frank Parish will be a most valuable and important addition to the Board, and we are convinced that the material prosperity of this fine property will be greatly increased by means of his practical knowledge and experience.

Financier.

We take the following from the London financial papers:—

"Foreign Government stocks this week are generally higher. The largest rise has been 3½ o/o in Argentine Hard Dollar Bonds, and 2½ o/o in the Treasury Paper. In the Argentine Sterling Loans, as well as in Chilian, the week's improvement is 1. Egyptian Bonds, including the 'Tribute' Loans, show a small rise amounting to ¼ to ½ only, notwithstanding the probable accession to power in Downing-street of a Cabinet which is pledged to uphold Egypt, her financial system, and British interests connected with that country. The inauguration of a Conservative Cabinet ought to be viewed with favour by all Continental holders of Egyptian securities."

The R.M.S. Neva takes the following cargo: For Rio Janeiro 100 pipes tallow, 3,500 bales of beef, 230 bags maize. For London 600 cases preserved tongues, 160 bags of maize. For Antwerp 300 bales sheepskins, 1,000 bags oats, 2,500 bags linseed.

Her passengers are:—
Mr E F Powers
Mr Weldon
Mr O'Connor
Julia O'Connor
Charles O'Connor
Mr G C Cave and daughter
Mr E G Gahan
Mr John Kenny
Captain Jove
Rosa Grimberg

And some third-class passengers.

The French steamer Provence takes the following passengers for Europe:—

Jaime Maubert, J Ferri, M Godoy, L Lacivia and wife, Maria Cristina de Almeida, A Alrich, Josefina Pongin and son, Batistina Quenard and a daughter.

Messrs. Green & Johnson, the well-known shipbrokers, give the following in their important shipping circular of the fortnight:—
